

Nature's Lullaby

Maria Alley

Verse 1.

Bumblebees and butterflies bright flowers by the brook
Grass hoppers and crickets come over and have a look Lilly pads and bull frogs, tiny minnows swimming past
We must be careful where we step and forever it will last

CHORUS

Clapping wings under porch lights keep the rhythm to the song
It never sounds the same way twice and it doesn't last that long
When you're lying in your bed alone there's no need to wonder why
The sounds you hear outside at night are nature's lullaby

Verse 2.

It's dark, can't see, the music plays all night
The mama bugs sing their babies to sleep in their bug beds snug and tight
Drones of teal dragon flies join the choir with all the rest
Listen to the harmony four robins in a nest

CHORUS

I Love the Dark

Tom Knight

I love the dark

That's the time when stars are twinklin' in the skies

I love the dark

When you can hear the sweetest lullabies

I love the dark

When the crickets sing a tune

Underneath the moon in the month of June

I'm mesmerized by the dancing fireflies

I love the dark and don't you love it too?

Shooting Stars

Martha Johnson

Stars, stars
Shooting stars
Look ever so near though they're ever so far
Stars, stars
Shooting stars
Make a wish as they fall through the sky

When the sky is quite clear on a warm summer's night
And the Milky Way's spilling its stars so bright Lie down on the grass for a while and you'll see
A shooting star falling so graceful and free

Stars, stars
Shooting stars
Look ever so near though they're ever so far
Stars, stars
Shooting stars
Make a wish as they fall through the sky

All the crickets are chirping, in the pond jumps a fish
As the shooting star tumbles, then you make a wish
Now my wish for you on this magical night
Is you'll always be safe and the stars always bright

Stars, stars
Shooting stars
Look ever so near though they're ever so far
Stars, stars
Shooting stars
Make a wish as they fall through the sky

Galaxy Song

Andy Z

Galaxy Song

We live on planet Earth
Our closest star's the Sun
The Moon is our satellite
The Earth spins 'round and 'round
And spins around the Sun
That's how we get day and night
In the day, the Sun shines bright
But it doesn't really leave at night
We just turned and looked the other way
We'll come around again
We go around the Sun
But we're not the only ones
There are other planets above
They're also circling
We're like a family
It's called a solar system
Mercury and Venus, Earth and Mars
Jupiter and Saturn, both very large Uranus and Neptune and even little Pluto too
That's from our point of view
There is a band of lights
That goes from left to right
Now listen close what I say
It may look separate
But we're a part of it
We call it the Milky Way
The Milky Way is filled with stars
And lots of solar systems, some like ours
So it's not a candy bar, you see?
It's called a galaxy

Gravity
AudraRox

Chorus:
Gravity is keeping me down
Gravity is keeping me down

Verse:
Sometimes I'd like to float up into the clouds
Drift to the moon and plant a flag in the ground

Chorus:
But gravity keeps holding me down
Gravity keeps holding me down

Verse:
Sometimes I'd like to jump right over my house
And ride my bicycle high above town
But gravity is holding me down

Bridge:
Yes the force of gravity
Is always hard at work
And that's why I jumpo in the aiur
And always come back to earth, earth, earth, earth

Gravity...

Space-age solo

Verse:
Sometimes I'd like to drift off into the clouds Float to the moon and watch the world spinning round
But gravity is holding me down

Nocturnal

Ken Lonquist

Nocturnal! Nocturnal!

Late at night, what a sight, when there's no kind of light: Nocturnal!

Foot-long centipedes, oh, yeah! Fruit, Fox, Vampire bats, oh, yeah!
Kapuchen monkeys, Spider, Ring-tail, too... Howlers howl all night at you!

Things that go "bump" in the night
Tend to sleep when things are bright
They've adapted different ways
Whether predator or prey

Nocturnal! Nocturnal!

Late at night, what a sight, when there's no kind of light: Nocturnal!

Colorful, poisonous frogs, oh, yeah! Tropical screech-owls, oh, yeah!
Ladybugs, leaf-cutter ants, katydids, Beetles that make you flip your lids!

Fragrant plants are smelled unseen
Snakes have heat-sensors so keen
They don't need light, night makes 'em smile...
That's the nocturnal life-style!

Nocturnal! Nocturnal!

Late at night, what a sight, when there's no kind of light: Nocturnal!

Hummingbirds, Toucans, oh, yeah! Parrots and Macaws, oh, yeah!
The giant Anaconda squeezes you The Boa Constrictor squeezes, too...

Man In The Moon

Wayne From Maine

Sometimes at night when I look up in the sky
There's a funny old man winkin' his eye
If you listen real close you can hear a little tune
Ooh sha-la la-la its the man in the moon...

Every now and then when the moon's just right
Big and round and shining so bright
If you look real close you can see his face
Smilin' with stars in outer space
Ooh sha-la la-la its the man in the moon...

The man in the moondoing the thing he loves
The man in the moon.....sending his light from above

Who's that up there big and round
All his light comes shinning down
Listen you will hear the sound
Ooh sha-la-la-la the man in the moon

Earth's Satellite

Wendy Whitten

V1

Since the beginning of time at the end of a day.

A glowing light up in the sky keeping darkness at bay.

Earth's great satellite
has captured our mind.
Guiding us through
each magical night
leading us into day.

V2

The mysterious moon ever changing, illuminating our way.

It's very presence, evoking stories and myths that amaze.

CHORUS

Earth's great satellite
has captured our mind.
Guiding us through
each magical night
leading us into day.

V3

Creative vi sions brought legends that dreamed of the "Man -in -the -Moon."

We mixed this dream with explorers desire and put a man on the moon.

CHORUS

Pluto

Rocknoceros

Long ago and late one night
A famous scientist looked into the sky
The image of a planet came
And Pluto was its name

Already around the sun
Eight more planets were having fun
Pluto joined to make it nine
But soon was left behind

Venus, Mercury, Saturn, Mars
All planets spinning below the stars
Uranus, Jupiter, Neptune, Earth
But poor Pluto lacks the girth

Now after intense debate
Scientists say of planets there are eight Pluto's fame will soon decline
Now that it's not planet nine

Venus, Mercury, Saturn, Mars
Are flytraps, autos, or candy bars
Uranus, Jupiter, Neptune, Earth
But for Pluto there is no mirth

Long ago and late one night
A famous scientist looked into the sky
The image of a planet came
And Pluto was its name.

Aurora Borealis

J.D. Uponen

Aurora Borealis

Blue light, shining brightly,
Strike imagination within me;
Red light, let me see
The best someone I can be
Green light, there you gleam,
Mixed with colors dancing before me.

Aurora Borealis (Aurora Borealis)

Whirling, swirling Northern Lights,
I like watching you in flight,
Waving your arms
Like you really knew my name.

Shadow

Mary Kaye

I hop and my shadow hops.
I stop and my shadow stops.
I lift up my hands...on one leg...I stand.
Then, I stop and my shadow stops.
When I run...in the sun...it is you I see.
If I bend...like a friend...you are next to me.
Shadow. Shadow. Shadow. Shadow.
I try to hug you but I cannot.
You are the only shadow I've got.
I'll take you with me all day...
When the sun is shining bright,
And wave goodnight by my night-light.
Shadow. Shadow. Shadow. Shadow.
I twirl and my shadow twirls.
I stop and my shadow stops.
I wiggle my hips. Stand on my toe tips.
Then, I stop and my shadow stops.
When I run...in the sun...it is you I see.
If I bend...like a friend...you are next to me.
Shadow. Shadow. Shadow. Shadow.
I try to hug you but I cannot.
You are the only shadow I've got.
I'll take you with me all day...
When the sun is shining bright,
And wave goodnight by my night-light.
Shadow. Shadow. Shadow. Shadow.
I hop and my shadow hops.

Safe at Home

Banana Slug String Band

One baby otter in the cradle of the sea
Two baby owls in the hollow of a tree
Three baby fawn in the forest where they've grown
And all the baby animals are safe at home

Four baby bears coming home to rest
Five baby mice are sleeping in their nest
Six baby chicks to the coup they have gone
And all the baby animals are safe at home

Seven baby pigs all snuggled in their pen
Eight baby fox are lying in their den
Nine baby geese back to the weeds have flown
And all the baby animals are safe at home
And all the baby animals are safe at home

One cradle rocking by the warm fire light
One child sleeping peaceful I the night
Love is the reason you'll never feel alone
Like all the baby animals safe at home

One baby otter in the cradle of the sea
Two baby owls in the hollow of a tree
Three baby fawn in the forest where they've grown
And all the baby animals are safe at home

Harmony of the Spheres

Laura Giosh

There's a heavenly melody singing to me
Notes of the universe in harmony
Playin' a keyboard that's inside my brain
If I don't sing it I'm gonna go insane.
Playin' planets in my ears

Spinning their counterpoint out to the stars
Jupiter, Mercury, Venus and Mars
Some kind of wonderful, magical noise
Singing together in one voice.
Playin' planets in my ears

The heavenly bodies are turning as one
Planets and moons circling round the sun
Each of us turning and learning inside
We are the planets in our lives.
HARMONY of the SPHERES
Playin' planets in my ears
 Goin' round and round
 Won't you listen to the heavenly sound
 It's the HARMONY of the SPHERES.

There's a heavenly melody singing to you
Everyday, now what are you gonna do?
Take it and make it a song of your own
Sing it together, we're never alone.
Playin' planets in my ears
 Goin' round and round
 Won't you listen to the heavenly sound
 It's the HARMONY of the SPHERES.

SO LONG TO THE DAY

Charity and the JAMband

the time has come night is falling fast the sun has set sky is steel gray
the stars come out
twinkling a lullaby
hello to the nighttime
so long to the day

you're safe, now, and warm and in the dreamtime the magic surely will come to gently hold your hand until night is done

so close your eyes sweet child of mine and feel the love of all the world and go to sleep
under the setting sun blanket of rainbow clouds pillow of song

the stars come out
twinkling a lullaby
hello to the nighttime
so long to the day
